

Rods Room: A New Earth And A New Universe

This book is made up of short articles, poems and stories that speculate on the future and seek to combine science with medicine and ideas which have always been regarded as belonging to religion or science fiction. The four short articles at the start (Gates>STARGATE, How to Create Universes, Building Doctor Who?s TARDIS and Darwin?s Evolution Unifies Universe) give the reader a condensed view of the conclusions my reading and thinking led me to. They seem to help explain points in each other. After these four are written the steps taken since 1999 to arrive at my conclusions. They include short articles, poems, stories ... and some logic that is hard to follow because I couldn?t explain myself well. As a result, it?s sometimes repetitious too ... but hopefully, all becomes clear in the end.

Who wouldnt love to believe the things we see in the Star Trek movies and TV programs are real? We could have warp speed, time travel, matter transporters, alien intelligences, a world without the worries of money, the creation of new planets, and so on. Wed have to move further ahead than the Star Trek years to find worldwide and universal peace, but I think all Trekkies would agree that Mr. Spock and his friends are slowly groping towards peace.

Well, people tell me its the 21st century. Thats what my calendar says - but everywhere I look, people are behaving as if its still the 20th century. Maybe theyll catch up to the calendar in 20 or 30 years. In the meantime, well pretend a new age has dawned - and well explore how the science of the early 1900s (represented by the theories of Albert Einstein) can be united with the entertainment of the late 1900s (represented by the phenomenon of Star Trek).

Amazingly; I read in a magazine about 10 years ago that Gene Roddenberry (Star Treks creator) received information from an extraterrestrial civilization about the fantastic possibilities in the show. He then took these and created his inspiring, futuristic program. At the time, I thought this was nothing more than an interesting magazine article. It sounded like science fiction then, and it still sounds like sci-fi. But at the same time, Im willing to believe he really did experience some kind of vision - something that suggests Star Trek deserves serious thought, and is more than the product of a wonderfully creative imagination.

Do you remember the episode of Star Trek: The Next Generation where a woman from a comparatively primitive planet was transported aboard the spaceship Enterprise, and was overwhelmed by the sight of her world shining among the stars? Captain Picard explained that he and his crew dont regard the woman and her kind as children. They are respected for who they are - people whose civilization just happens to be very young compared to that of Picard and his crew. In time, the womans civilization will learn, and be able to do all the things that presently cause her to think of Picard as a god.

The concept of God intrigues me because I believe it's related to the nature of the universe. I believe everything in space and time is connected by infinitesimal pulses of energy that are many millions of times smaller than anything that even the most powerful microscopes can reveal (this is similar to the way everything on a computer screen is connected by pulses of electricity, and spacetimes energy pulses are the basic units constituting the

A great coach can assist you to set up a plan that meets your aims and educate you the greatest way to exercise. Finding and selecting a trainer may be daunting a bit confusing and, for some. It is challenging going in with extra information about how fitness works can allow it to be a little simpler, although requesting assistance. (Personal Trainers) What is a Personal Trainer? A personal trainer should be, at the very least, educated and certified through a recognised fitness organization (see below). This individual's job will be to assess your level of fitness, figure out what your aims are (or help you establish targets) create a plan and keep you motivated. She or he will push you beyond your comfort level — something tough to do by yourself. A trainer additionally provides:

1. Guidance on achieving your goals
2. Instruction about fundamental nutrition, cardio and bodybuilding
3. Each week a reason to appear at the gym
4. Accountability
5. Methods to assist monitor your improvement

What is a Program Like? Each session typically lasts about an hour. The first meeting is dedicated to assessing body measurements, fitness level, health and workout background and goals. Be ready to step on the scale, have your body fat measured and answer questions that were particular about your goals. After this, you'll spend each session performing cardiovascular exercise, weight-training, flexibility or other activities depending on what your aims are. Your trainer will show you give you tips for getting the most out of each workout, enable you to determine how much weight to use and just how to do the exercises. What to try to find In a Personal Trainer

1. Education: A personal trainer should be accredited through a recognised personal training organization. The more education your trainer has, the better your workouts will be, although a workout science or other related college degree isn't crucial.
2. CPR: your coach should have an updated qualification in CPR and/or firstaid.
3. Experience: Make sure your trainer has expertise, particularly with regards to your goals. As an example, if you are a bodybuilder, you want some body educated in that area.
4. Details: If you've got a particular clinical issue, injury or illness (such as being pregnant, difficulty becoming pregnant, heart troubles, diabetes, etc.) ensure your trainer has education in these fields and communicate with your doctor.
5. A good-listener: A good trainer ensure he comprehends your aims and should listen carefully to what you say.
6. Attention: A good trainer should be targeted only during your sessions on you.
7. Monitoring improvement: A great coach will often assess your progress and alter things if necessary.
